

Privacy Statement

This application development team is committed to protecting privacy and securing personal information. This page provides information on what is collected and how the information is used and retained. This application does not collect any personal information. Should personal information collection be enabled in a future version of this application, such request for personal information will be strictly voluntary. This application development team will always follow industry best practices with respect to collecting and protecting your information consistent with the principles of the Privacy Act of 1974, E-Government Act of 2002 and Federal Records Act. You can learn more by searching for “privacy impact assessments”, also known as PIA.